6.) What do you Learn in the Curriculum About What Makes a Good Friend?

PSHE

Stories from the bible

Be nice, be kind

Don't be mean or violent

Be kind and respectful

To listen

Don't hurt

We learn about it in collective worship

The house groups

Trust them and be caring

Say something nice about them

Be courageous

Be friendly

Don't judge

Visitors come and tell us stories about friendship/forgiveness/peace and trust. They say to be a good friend you have to be all of these

Treat them the way you treat yourself

I learn that to be a good friend people need to trust you

Show kindness to one another even if they are being mean

We learn about Respect, Friendship, Peace, Trust and Forgiveness

Make a friendship tree

7.) If a friend told you that they were being sent photos and messages that were making them feel worried could you as their friend, speak to a member of staff? Do you feel you could get help?

Yes

Yes tell
a
teacher

Ignore
them/delete
the message

Ask them first because I would not want someone to go behind my back and tell staff I was upset

I would
comfort
them

I would give them
advice

I'd tell my parents and other adults
that I can trust

Delete
their number

Tell an adult if they give you
permission

If they don't give permission. I would reassure
them and
persuade them to tell a teacher

If it is a friend tell them to stop/if it is a stranger block
them

Tell them to tell their parents

I would try to help
myself

You could tell their parents if they don't,
unless they tell you not to

8.) A girl is being pestered by a boy in her class who is saying that he wants to go out with her. He keeps blowing kisses at her and he will not leave her alone. It is making her feel upset and it is getting worse. If teachers heard or saw this, would they do anything? Would you as pupils feel able to tell him to stop or to go and tell your teacher?

Yes, you need to tell the teachers

Yes, but in a kind way

I would tell them to stop then tell a teacher

Talk to the boy-maybe they could just be friends

I don't think teachers can help enough so I would just say stop and say to the girl he won't pester her anymore.

Tell Mr Whitehead

Yes they would discipline him

The teachers would intervene/I would walk over and tell him how he is making her feel.

I would ask whether they would want the teacher to know. Then I would say to the boy that she is getting upset about it.

If a grown up didn't react I would report it to someone who would

I feel it really depends who it is but we would probably be able to sort it out

This is abuse so definitely tell an adult but they might feel embarrassed 9.) If you were not allowed on your PC/tablet/games console/phone, what activity would you choose to do instead?
